HEARTS WIDE OPEN

"The feeling in a small club quickly grows intense when GILAD HEKSELMAN, an Israeli jazz guitarist in his mid-20s, steps up to improvise. Since arriving in New York five years ago, Mr. Hekselman has set himself roughly up in the line of Pat Metheny and Kurt Rosenwinkel, with a warm and clean guitar tone, clear articulation, crazily extended improvisational ideas, speed when he needs it, an advanced understanding of harmony, and the flexibility to go wherever his bands want..."

Ben Ratliff - New York Times

Gilad Hekselman... at the forefront of the jazz guitar world, adding to the world of technique, mood, and compositional innovation that recent greats like John Scofield and Kurt Rosenwinkel created. Hearts Wide Open is highly recommended.
